Company Name: ReMax Results

Web Address:

Industry: Real Estate

Business / Organization Description:

Remax is a realty office responsible for the sale of homes.

How is PageGate Used/Customer Quote:

As a realty office ReMax needs to be in constant contact with their offices 25 realtors. Realtors are usually available to their clients 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, yet they spend large amounts of time out of the office. The office staff at ReMax text message the Realtors with any urgent or important messages. This lets the Realtors know when offers and time sensitive faxes have been received. It also tells them when someone wants to show a property.

"The agents also have appreciated the option of giving up their pager and using text messaging on their cell phone. Its a pain to carry both a cell and a pager. That's why we looked into NotePage in the first place... because it worked with cell phones. So far, we've been very happy."
