Industry: Answer Service

Business / Organization Description:

Venture Telemessaging is an answering service, paging reseller, inbound telemarketing and order entry firm.

How is PageGate Used/Customer Quote:

Venture Telemessaging offers its clientele free access to the web paging functionality. This has complimented both their paging reseller division and answering service division while increasing the value of the services that they currently offer. By offering website paging they reduce the volume of calls their answering service needs to manage and offers their clients an alternative way to send text messages.
